

LOCAL AND GENERAL.

John L. Sullivan is coming.

The Planters' Monthly is out for June.

Get your guns, thieves are on their rounds again.

A new secret society has been formed—the "Watermelon Club."

An elegant new street electric light adorns the Wigwam Billiard Rooms.

His Excellency Hon. H. W. Widemann, Minister of Finance, is improving in health.

Bathers at the beach were quite numerous all day Sunday. Very little rain fell there, although cloudy.

The case of Regina vs. J. E. Bush et al., for alleged criminal libel will be tried before the Supreme Court July 6th.

The Aloha Assembly, K. of L., met yesterday evening at their hall and elected new officers for the coming six months.

Photos of the Iolanthe amateurs by J. J. Williams, ornament the windows of the Hawaiian News Company's store.

The steamer James Makee loaded fifty tons of coal in two hours at the O. R. & L. Co's wharf the other day. Pretty good work.

The Oahu Railway will run extra trains on the Fourth. Boat races will be one of the events at Pearl Harbor, a dance at Remond Grove is another.

The engagement of Mr. Paul R. Isenberg and Miss Beatrice McBryde is announced. Mr. Isenberg is one of our popular residents, while Miss McBryde belongs to a very much esteemed family.

A sailor from the Morning Star, while running with an open knife in his hand out of a saloon Saturday evening, fell on the street, the knife entering his body, seriously injuring him. He was taken to the Hospital.

Queries were heard on the streets yesterday as to what has become of "one of the members of the Secret Service." Anyone knowing his whereabouts would confer a favor to the public by giving the desired information.

A native named Simeona was drowned Monday evening at the Kaimanui wharf, the result of a quarrel with another native. They both fell into the water, when it is supposed the native named was killed by striking his head as he fell.

Miss Day, sister of Mr. Richard Day, met with an accident Wednesday. While out driving, upon starting she reached for the lines when, not catching both, the horse started to turn, upsetting the buggy from which Miss Day fell, striking her head.

Her Majesty the Queen granted, Friday morning, an audience to Hon. W. D. Alexander, who presented Rev. and Mrs. Hammond, Prof. Dutton, of the United States, and Prof. Marcuse, of Germany. The callers were afterwards shown the Throne Room.

The Hawaiian Band attracted a great many to Makee Island, Waikiki, Thursday evening. The evening was a beautiful one, and the band did its usual good playing. Six trams were jammed full on the homeward trip, besides many hacks and buggies.

Saturday evening a native was found lying insensible on Liliha near School street. It is supposed he fell from a horse, although when examined at the Hospital no bruises could be found on any part of the body. He died just as he was being removed to the Hospital.

Among the passenger arrivals by the S. N. Castle on Saturday were Mr. and Mrs. George Schussler. Mr. Schussler is connected with the engineering department of the Spring Valley Water Works of San Francisco. Mr. Schussler is taking a sea trip for his health and will visit the Volcano and other points of interest to the Islands.

Tuesday evening some of the more proficient members of the Zither Club were invited to Hon. Samuel Parker's residence to while away an hour or two with music. Her Majesty the Queen was present, attended by several ladies of the Court, among whom were Mrs. Chas. Clark and Mrs. W. H. Aldrich. Captain J. Ross and Mr. T. P. Cummins were also among the number of invited guests.

The chief topic of conversation in the community Wednesday morning was the million dollar law suit, which promises to be the most important case ever brought in our Courts. There will no doubt be a strong array of legal talent on each side, judging from counsel already engaged by plaintiffs. It is said that over 40,000 tons of sugar has already been taken off the Waikapu Commons land.

Eastern exchanges state that Mr. John C. Klein, of the New York World staff, and well known in journalistic circles all over the world, was married on the 25th May at the Rutgers Riverside Church, New York, to Mrs. Ora Cecil Bell Damsen. Mr. Klein became noted as the correspondent of the Associated Press at Samoa during the troubles which ended in the tri-partite treaty between England, Germany and the United States.

LOCAL AND GENERAL.

The Iolanthe engages a large number of the best young local talent of town.

Sunday was the longest day of the year, too long entirely for this warm weather.

Mr. Harry D. Wishard, of Kauai, and bride are expected by the Australia to-day.

The Pacific Hardware Company have in one large frame an excellent selection of Island views on exhibition.

The English of the Ka Leo is pau. The reason given in Friday's issue of that paper was the want of English writers.

Japanese orange trees will be a feature of L. J. Levey's auction on Wednesday. Numerous other Japanese objects are for sale also; sale at 12 o'clock noon.

Mr. Geo. E. Fairchild, acting manager, and Mr. Wm. Eassie, Superintendent Engineer, of the Kealia Plantation, Kauai, are guests at the Hawaiian Hotel. Mrs. and Mrs. W. E. Decoto, of Lahaina, are stopping in town.

The Philadelphia Record has an illustrated article showing the time required for making a printed edition from the time of cutting the trees from which the paper is made to the time the paper is off the press. The time is just twenty-two hours.

If any man thinks he can run the kitchen department of his home better than his wife, let him just take time to read over the experience of Mr. Bowser as narrated on the fifth page. It is only an everyday experience in some homes.

A TAME GAME OF BALL.

The Honolulu Held the Hawaiis Down to Two Runs.

A fair attendance greeted the two nines at the ball grounds on Saturday. The playing was tame throughout. Following is the score:

Burglars.

Saturday night burglars entered the printing establishment of Mr. R. Grieve. It appears the thieves entered by climbing a telephone pole in front of the building on Merchant street, going in a window just above the roof shading the sidewalk. The lower door opening into the street was locked, but the one opening into the hall up stairs was open, as well as that of the Thistle Club.

Nothing was missing, and no damage done except the boring of a lock of one of the desks by means of a small brad, and the prying of the drawer open with a chisel. Both these instruments were left in the press rooms, having evidently been taken from the rooms of the Thistle Club, where they had been used in putting up shelves for the books of this newly formed club.

Some one also entered the wine rooms of Mr. W. S. Luce on Merchant street. Having reached that place, they were evidently thirsty, taking four bottles of gin and two of whiskey to quench their thirst. If Honolulu is going to have another round of burglaries, it is soon time the police force is increased in number to protect at least the business localities, or else something else done to catch the miscreants.

Landed Too Soon.

The Japanese steamship Yamashiro Maru will leave for Yokohama either next Tuesday or Wednesday. Besides the 1,100 immigrants she brought last Thursday, she had seventeen Japanese steerage passengers for this kingdom. Soon after arrival, officials from the immigration Bureau took charge of the landing of the immigrants. The steers passengers, thinking that the Board of Immigration could not send them over to the Quarantine Station, took "French leave" and sought shelter for the night at the homes of their friends. After mingling with their friends in this city for over twenty-four hours—time enough to spread small-pox—the Board of Health thought of their safety, but were told that they were not at the depot. Orders were immediately given to hunt up the missing seventeen passengers and take them back to the depot. Several hours were spent on Friday searching for them. They were all found, however, after much difficulty.

THE FOURTH COMMITTEE.

At the Hawaiian Hotel—Attended by Representative Americans—Committee of Arrangements.

The meeting to make arrangements for the Fourth of July met in the dining room of the Hawaiian Hotel Friday evening. It was fairly attended by representative American citizens resident here.

His Excellency Hon. J. L. Stevens, U. S. Minister, called the meeting to order, nominating Prof. M. M. Scott, who was elected by acclamation as president of the meeting. Mr. W. H. Hoogs was elected Secretary.

Hon. J. L. Stevens announced that he would hold a reception at the American Legation on the Fourth between the hours of 3 and 4:30 p. m.

Mr. F. M. Hatch moved a committee be appointed by the chair, afterward amended to be appointed by those present, for the purpose of making up a literary programme. The committee appointed consisted of Hon. J. L. Stevens, chairman, and Messrs. Severance and Theo. Richards. Mr. A. J. Cartwright was elected President of the day.

Mr. Hatch moved that a committee of twelve be appointed to retire to draft a programme to be carried out. The committee consisted of Messrs. J. H. Soper, J. A. Gilman, F. M. Hatch, F. W. Winter, Hamilton Johnson, G. Wilder, M. N. Saunders, J. W. Pratt, A. V. Gear, Fred McChesney, J. J. Gallagher and Dr. Nichols.

Before the committee retired, His Excellency John L. Stevens offered a suggestion to the committee to the effect that they should try to make arrangements so that the exercises would not conflict with the time of other organizations on that day.

The committee chosen retired and soon returned reporting that the order of exercises should consist of three events: the ball, to be held at the Armory, Friday evening, July 3d; a national salute of forty-two guns should be fired at sunrise, and the literary exercises to be held at 10:30 a. m. at Emma Square.

Mr. G. K. Wilder thought that Major Hebbard from his experience in the past on similar occasions was the most capable to undertake the charge of the saluting. Upon a motion made and carried to that effect, he was appointed to take charge of the same.

A committee of six was then chosen to make arrangements for the ball. The committee consists of Messrs. G. K. Wilder, chairman, John W. Winter, Jos. Gilman, E. F. Bishop, J. W. Pratt and W. H. Hoogs.

At the suggestion of Mr. J. W. Winter, a Finance Committee of five members was appointed, consisting of Messrs. W. F. Allen, chairman, F. M. Hatch, Jas. G. Spencer, E. Tenney and M. N. Saunders. It was then moved, seconded and carried that all committees have power to fill vacancies that may be caused. Mr. Winter moved that each committee be authorized to contract for its own printing, thereby doing away with a special committee. Motion carried.

Mr. F. M. Hatch made a motion which was carried that committees should meet subject to the call of the president of the meeting. Before the meeting was ready for adjournment, Mr. Hatch had drawn up a paper for subscriptions to the general fund, which soon was headed with several $10 signatures, making the outlook very favorable for at least the financial part.

Wedding Bells.

Certainly one of the happiest weddings ever in Cincinnati was that of Harry D. Wishard, of Liliha, Kauai, Hawaiian Islands, to Miss Agnes Winstead, the beautiful and accomplished daughter of Frank and Elizabeth Winstead, Tuesday afternoon, June 2. With a merry party of Indianapolis friends and relatives, they came to Danville, Indiana, and received many calls during the afternoon and evening at the home of the groom's father. They leave for a brief visit with A. J. Wishard at Red Lake Falls, Minn., and then go directly to San Francisco, whence they sail Tuesday, June 16th.

No young people ever started in life with brighter prospects, or with the sincere wishes of more devoted friends. Their acquaintance had also a tinge of romance, they having met while Miss Winstead was here in college four years ago. A year later, Mr. Wishard left for the Islands, where he has been ever since, coming home some five weeks ago for his bride.—Ind. Paper.

A New Fruit.

We have received from Mrs. Ellen Riemenschneider, a specimen of the pepino or "melon plum," as it is known in some places, which was raised in her garden in this city. The plant is a native of Guatemala, and was introduced into Southern California five years ago. It resembles in size and shape a goose egg or a large egg plum, and is of a light yellow or lemon color, much like the fruit in color. In taste it is a pleasant semi-acid, not much liked at first, but after one gets accustomed to the fruit, he becomes fond of it, the same as with the avocado pear. A full description of the plant and fruit will be found in the Planter's Monthly for February, 1891, page 89. Mrs. R. deserves credit for being the first to obtain ripe fruits of the pepino, which is destined to be a favorite table dessert.

In Scotland.

The Hon. W. G. Irwin was in Edinburgh, Scotland, on the 21st of May. The Scotsman of the 23d has a full account of the General Assembly of the Church of Scotland. There was a state procession and a reception at Holyrood Palace held by the Marquis of Tweeddale. Over a thousand distinguished persons were present at the reception. Their names are given in the Scotsman. After Lord Balfour, Sir A. Mackenzie, Sir James King, Sir D. Maclean, comes the name of Hon. W. G. Irwin, Honolulu. The reception was a most brilliant affair throughout.

Board of Health.

Dr. Lutz and Dr. Miner were appointed by the Board of Health Wednesday upon the board of physicians for examining lepers. A resolution was passed to the effect that the Board should endeavor to secure the services of some noted specialist to take up the study of leprosy. It is likely he will come from Germany, and will be placed at the Settlement on Moikoi.

THE MORNING STAR.

Resume of Voyage From Captain Garland.

The American Missionary steam barkentine Morning Star, Captain G. F. Garland, arrived in port on Friday morning, June 19th, after an unusually long cruise of 11½ months among the different groups of Micronesia. The Star left Honolulu a year ago next July 12th. Her mission, however, has been well carried out. The entire cruise around the South Sea Islands was attended by successions of head winds and gales, at times. These conditions of the weather rendered the voyage somewhat unpleasant.

Two calls were made at Ponape, Caroline Islands. On the first visit, the Star found the Spanish soldiers and the natives engaged in warfare. At one battle, the Spanish mustered out 1,200 men against 300 natives, but the Spanish were defeated in spite of the great odds, with the loss of many. The island of Ponape is divided into five tribes, each ruled by a king. The Metalein tribe has about 1,500 natives. This tribe is the one hostile to the Spanish, and which the Spanish Governor is anxious to annihilate if they do not soon surrender themselves and their arms to Spanish authorities. At the second visit of the Star, the natives were found at peace. A Spanish corvette was lying at anchor.

Henry Nanpie, a high chief of this tribe arrived by the Star, and is at present domiciled at Rev. Dr. Hyde's Theological Seminary. Mr. Nanpie is part white, and appears to have received careful training from the American missionaries. He is quite conversant in English and bears himself like a European. Mr. Wm. Higgins, a theological student took His Highness sightseeing yesterday. He was perfectly amazed at the beauty of Honolulu and its environment. He was taken to the Chinese quarters, where he saw celestial beauties for the first time. Mr. Nanpie is credited with having influenced the Kiti tribe to refrain from engagements with the Spaniards.

The Morning Star brings thirty cords of firewood, one cow and a very large quantity of shells, corals and coral to several parties in Honolulu. One case of shells will be forwarded to the Oberlin Museum.

The Star has been somewhat roughly handled by the weather and needs a great deal of repairing. Messrs. Sorrenson & Lyle have been awarded the job of putting the Star in sound condition again, so that she may be enabled to continue carrying on her mission of "love and goodwill" among the peoples of Micronesia.

THE MUSICAL.

An Excellent Rendition—Largely Attended.

The musicale given by Prof. Bissell and his pupils at Oahu College, on Friday evening, was attended by a very large number of lovers of music. Her Majesty the Queen, attended by Major J. W. Robertson, H. M.'s Chamberlain, and several ladies of the court, favored the occasion with their presence. The entertainment commenced with a piano duet, entitled "March from 'Lenore' Symphony," which was finely rendered by Miss Castle and Mr. Bissell. Mr. E. Lyman next sang "The Wanderer." The College chorus, consisting of about thirty boys and girls, rendered three songs, which were highly enjoyed. They sang "Mary had a Little Lamb" in a very excellent manner, the obligato being finely rendered. Another song given by them was "Old Mother Hubbard." Miss Castle next played a piano solo, "Suite" by Paderewski. Mr. Geo. McDougall caused a storm of applause when he sang "A Jolly Good Laugh." His singing of it was quite comic, which fact caused the "little ones" to demand more of it. Miss Hattie Forbes then gave a piano solo, "Il Desiderio." "The First Song," by Miss May Atherton, was a real musical treat. This young lady possesses a rich, clear voice of great compass. Prof. Bissell then appeared with a piano solo, "Suite," by Raff. His playing was of a very high order, which greatly pleased the audience. At the end of his playing, Prof. Hosmer presented the latter with a bouquet.

The audience and the school then joined singing "Hawaii Pono," after which the large gathering began to disperse. Many were heard to remark on the excellent programme prepared by Prof. Bissell.

After all had gone, Prof. Wood and eighteen boys went out in one of the college "basses" to serenade old pupils of the institution. Among the places called were: Mrs. C. A. Brown, Rev. Drs. Beckwith and Hyde, Hon. J. B. Atherton and Mr. W. R. Castle.

Sunday School Social.

His Lordship the Bishop of Honolulu and Mrs. Willis entertained the members of St. Andrew's Sunday School at Iolani College on Saturday afternoon. H. R. H. Princess Poamikelani accompanied by Prince Kaliniano, her nephew, together with a large number of the parents and friends of the scholars, were present. The children indulged in games while the older ones sat beneath the shady trees either watching the progress of the sports or willing away the moments in social conversation.

After considerable time was spent in these pleasant pastimes, all were invited by their host and hostess to a bountiful repast spread outside of the chapel grounds. About one hundred and thirty sat down, while Messdames Clark, Smith and Willis, assisted by a host of little girls, served out to them tea and coffee, cakes and ice cream, etc. When all had well partaken of the good things, the school room was then thrown open to the girls where they merrily spent about an hour dancing.

The Foundries.

The employees of the Union Iron Works have a half holiday on Saturdays by making up a quarter of an hour on each of the other working days. The workmen of the Honolulu Iron Works asked for and received permission from Mr. Alexander Young to stop work at noon Saturdays, with the exception that if work required it at any time, they would work the whole day.

ATHLETIC EXHIBITION.

A Well-Arranged Programme—The Best of the Kind Honolulu Ever Witnessed.

A larger audience should have greeted the efforts of the Honolulu Athletic Association Saturday evening, June 20th. Probably the fact that more people did not think the Association, or rather those in training, could possibly have reached such a degree of perfection as to entertain a crowded house was a cause that may have kept some away. Another reason, doubtless, was that some thought that the exhibition would be of a rough and tumble affair. In either supposition any who held such ideas would have found themselves very agreeably mistaken.

As has been stated in these columns before, the choice of instructor for the Association was well made. Mr. Max Loehide is a thorough athlete, fully understanding his work, and so practical in his teaching that no other results but thoroughly practical as well as graceful are achieved. This was fully demonstrated Saturday evening.

Before the curtain rose Mr. C. L. Carter made a stirring short address, setting forth the object of the exhibition. It was brief but to the point.

The stiffness, if any, of an athletic exhibition was modified by having the programme varied with music. Mr. Oscar Herold, musical director, had a number of Prof. Berger's band for an orchestra; besides, Prof. Theo. Richards was there with the much-in-demand Kamehameha Glee Club. It was nothing unusual to see this club heartily encouraged. They were on the programme for two selections, but as usual had to give more. Prof. U. J. Ordway enlivened the time between some of the exhibitions by playing on the banjo and some bottles. In responding to an encore on the latter, he brought on a sort of a finale by tipping over a bottle much to the amusement of the gallery. Mr. W. Herick gave a number on the guitar. At the house's demands for more, he played with an assistant a selection so perfectly as to mark him a master-player on the guitar.

Antone Keumi, one of the athletes who took the hardest part in the exhibition of the pyramids, acted at first, the part of the clown, causing a few smiles to lighten the faces of the assemblage.

The athletic exhibitions were varied, and with one or two exceptions were attended with success sufficient to arouse enthusiasm in the most undemonstrative. During their antics on the horizontal bar, some feats were performed that showed the strength and agility of the performers. The juvenile class on the vaulting horse were not far behind in their efforts. They went through their parts with a litheness and suppleness that was pleasing to see. Thirteen of the members of this class marched in good order upon the stage and around it, keeping splendid time; they then formed in each with one little fellow in the rear, when they commenced to swing their clubs. They swung them in every direction till it was difficult to follow them with the eye. No fault could be found with the little fellows. They did well.

The different formations on the pyramid ladders as well as the ground pyramids were remarkable. In the former Mr. C. L. Carter, vice-president of the association, held the ladders together with the strength of grip that held them almost immovable while the other athletes crawled up, performed and came down. The parallel bars brought forth exhibitions of muscle and skill that would astonish the audience at times. The ground pyramids were masterly efforts.

It was a splendid exhibition. The athletes were nicely dressed in tight-fitting athletic uniforms. Mr. J. W. Jones, the leader, managed the stage and left nothing undone that tended to make the whole pass off without a halt or serious mistake. The exhibition deserved a larger audience. If the association were to repeat the performances, with a few variations, we feel confident they would be greeted with a much larger house.

The Rev. Dr. Clinton Locke, the popular Episcopal clergyman, of Chicago, made a bad break the other day, but was helped out by the quick wit of his wife. On the day in question, he saw a lady about to call, whom he was anxious not to meet. So he said to his wife: "Now, I'm off, my dear. I'll run upstairs and escape till she goes away." After about an hour, he quietly tiptoed to the stair-landing and listened. All was quiet below. Reassured, he began to descend, and, while doing so, he thoughtlessly but emphatically called out over the baluster: "Well, my dear, has that old bore gone at last?" The next instant a voice from below caused the perspiration to bedew his ministerial brow and rooted him to the spot. There came a response which sounded inexpressibly sweet to him just then. It was the voice of his wife, who with true womanly tact replied: "Yes, darling, she went away over an hour ago, but here is our good friend, Mrs. Blank, whom I am sure you want to meet."

Winter Visitor (in Florida): I should love dearly to go sailing but it looks very dangerous. Do not people often get drowned in the bay? Waterman—No, indeed, mum. The sharks never lets anybody drown.

Fashion Item—Society young men hold their canes in the middle with the head down and about a foot and a half in front of them. Dudes closely imitate the society men.
